It will be seen that the hall has not paid running expenses. This may be partly accounted for by last year being a presidential year, and as has been the custom, the hall was used a great deal by both political parties without pay. In accordance with a vote of the town last November, 99 incandescent lights have been installed in the hall, by the Newport Electric Light Co. The work was done in a skillful manner by Mr. Myron Tenney. The County Commissioners having wired the lower story, the whole building being now lighted by electricity, greatly reducing the fire risk, as well as adding to the convenience and beauty of the building. As the expense of running the hall will now be increased, there should be new rates established for its rental.

R. E. BARTLETT, Agent.

CHARLES E. STUBBS,

SELECTMEN'S STATEMENT.

The selectmen in making their annual report for the year ending March 1, 1893, wish to make the following brief explanations and suggestions:

As will be seen by the financial report, the town debt has been increased. This undesirable fact was brought about by various causes, a few of which we will mention. Last year there was laid in Main street 1035 1-2 yards of concrete, at the price of one dollar per yard. The work proving unsatisfactory, payment was deferred. Last July, Mr. Robie, the contractor, completed the job, giving the town a good and sufficient bond, to insure its permanency, and was paid the sum of $1035.50. We have also paid the Berlin Iron Bridge Co., for the bridge on Belknap avenue, which was bought and erected last year, the sum of $1191.05. Early in the month of April, 1892, a petition largely signed by heavy tax payers, was presented to the selectmen, asking them to lay out and build a street to be a continuation of Laurel street. After a careful examination of the proposed route and all the facts in the case, your selectmen came to the conclusion that the public good and best interest of Newport village required this street, and as the opportunity for securing the right of way seemed more favorable than could be expected at any future time, it was decided to lay out and build the street. The opening of this street has made available a large number of desirable building lots near the business part of our village, many of which are already taken for immediate use, and valuable buildings are now in process of erection. Unforeseen delays and difficulties made the cost of the street exceed expectation. Especially was this true of the sewer, which had to be laid at a great depth much of the way through a very treacherous quicksand.

The sanitary condition of the square opposite the shoe shop, was so bad that a petition was presented by the board of health asking for an abatement of the nuisance. This could only be accomplished by lowering the town sewer at that place, which was done at quite a large outlay. This work could not safely be done except in the cool months of the year, and it was felt that to allow it to go through another season would be a great menace to the health of that part of our village. The owners of the land near G. B. Lear's blacksmith shop, being about to build upon it, gave notice to the selectmen that the water from the streets could no longer be turned upon the surface of said land, so that we were obliged to find an outlet for the water at the bridge, which was done at quite a large expense. Messrs. Emerson, Jackson and Johnson having built a street called Union Court, upon which several houses have been erected, proposed to co-operate with the town and lay down a twelve-inch tile pipe to carry off the water from the streets of that part of our village, the town to pay one-third of the expense. This offer seemed so advantageous to the town it was accepted. The street has since been made a public highway without expense to the town and the town has a deed of the pipe as laid. A large amount of building in our village has called for outlays on the part of the town in various ways.

We are pleased to report the fire department as being in excellent condition, with a fine body of men and efficient officers. The time for the payment of the members having been changed by law, there is included in this year's settlement the pay for 17 months. Experience has proved that at most fires from ten to 15 minutes have been lost waiting for steam. This seemed so serious a matter that with the advice of the fire engineers, a heater for the steamer was purchased at an expense of $196; so that at a very small extra outlay the water in the boiler is kept at steam heat.

The lots in the village cemetery that are available, are nearly all taken up. Should the town vote the sum of $200 to be expended in the cemetery, it is estimated that fifty more lots may be made available. There is pressing need for the town to take some action in the matter of providing new cemeteries. The receiving tomb at North Newport should be repaired.

There has been a large amount of money expended upon our roads over the town, especially in the village district. Much of this expense has been for permanent improvements, such as clearing the roads of large stones, making large fills, etc. There seems to be a general movement all over the country for better roads, and the era of good roads is upon us. We cannot hope to escape large outlays upon our roads in the future. With these facts in view, is it not well for the tax payers of Newport to consider if our methods of managing our roads are businesslike, and bring the best results for the money expended? Would any large enterprise be likely to succeed with 15 superintendents, each independent of the other, and of any general superintendent, and liable to change every year? Our present system may have had its day and use, but times have changed, and methods should change with them. To all good business minds this fact must be apparent, that with the large sums of money expended, we should gain some permanent improvements each year. We only wish to call your attention to these matters, not to suggest methods. Stone crushing machinery and the making of stone roads has been so much cheapened that it may be well for the town to inquire if some of our main roads may not be permanently built in this way.

School Report.

TO THE INHABITANTS OF NEWPORT SCHOOL DISTRICT:

In compliance with the provisions of the statute we herewith submit our annual report.

The close of the year finds our schools in good healthy condition, and generally speaking the work accomplished during the year has been all that could reasonably be expected under existing circumstances. No contagious diseases or prevalent distemper, with the exception of a few cases of the mumps in two of our village schools, during the winter term, have interrupted the work laid out. The severe storm during the week commencing Feb. 20, broke up the schools somewhat, especially those in the outlying divisions, but where practicable this was made up at the end of the term.

In cases where the results have not come up to the expectations of the board and parents, the trouble can, almost without exception, be traced to the inability of the board with the means at its command to procure experienced or especially fitted teachers and the failure of the parents to cooperate with and assist the teacher and board in the matter of discipline and general conduct of the pupils. We would not imply that the results attained by an inexperienced teacher are never satisfactory, for such is by no means the case, but there are certain conditions which make the employment of an inexperienced teacher in a given school more or less a matter of experiment.

Where satisfactory work is being done we believe that it is policy to retain the same teacher as long as possible, as where a change is made an equally good and efficient successor labors under the disadvantages of being obliged to familiarize herself with the acquirements and disposition of her pupils before she can take up the work and carry it along with profit. However, more or less of these changes are inevitable each term, especially in the case of outlying divisions where the compensation is less and the chances for promotion to the successful teacher are more.

Every school in town joined in the exercises and celebration of "Columbus Day," and did credit to themselves, their teachers and the occasion. We believe that such memorial or anniversary exercises are as potent educators as text books and the lessons they teach will have a lasting impression on the minds of all who participate.

An exceptionally successful Institute was held at the town hall in the month of February, upwards of eighty teachers being present. We were glad to note the presence of every teacher employed in the district at the time. Consultation and exchange of ideas and methods are beneficial in any profession and teaching is no exception to the general rule. The special province of the Institute is to illustrate and bring to the attention of teachers and others engaged in school work, modern and improved methods of instruction and discipline, and no teacher can afford to absent herself from such a gathering.

In this connection we would emphasize the good results arising from frequent meetings, say one each term, of all teachers employed in town. We regret to say that we were unable to arrange for but one such meeting during the past year, but we believe such meetings enable the board and the various teachers to cooperate and secure results in the various localities that could not otherwise be obtained.

We would also emphasize the good results that are to be obtained from supplementary reading and believe that it is feasible in all grades above the primary as well as for the more advanced classes in our mixed school. A text book in reading becomes monotonous and fails to interest the pupil after it has been read from cover to cover several times, while some book of perhaps a historical or geographical nature interests the pupil at once and enables him to not only improve in reading but to gain a knowledge of the subject matter that would be of practical value. We have during the past year introduced into our grammar grade a book called, "The American Citizen," which may be used either as a text book or for supplementary reading, and we believe that it will supply a long-felt want and give the pupils ideas of the elements of good citizenship that will be of lasting benefit to them. Too many of our pupils arrive at mature years without a correct appreciation or knowledge of how to properly use the rights and privileges they enjoy as citizens of these United States.

The laxness which has hitherto prevailed in the making of promotions ought to be corrected. The teacher, in making recommendations for promotion, has been compelled to sacrifice a high standard of scholarship in order to appease the opposition of proud and well meaning parents. When it becomes necessary to withhold a certificate of promotion it is a great disappointment to both pupil and parents, but it is one in which every true teacher most deeply shares. Then let us reason together. Parents conscientiously argue that their boy will become discouraged if put back, and they silently feel that they can not endure the humiliation of seeing their neighbor's boy make more rapid progress than their own. But the pupils interests and future career are at stake, and what are they? As grown persons, who get involved in a conversation beyond their depth, become reticent, so pupils, who are in a class too advanced for them, do not think, talk or act freely, but are chiefly engaged in concealing from the teacher what they do not know. When a teacher is leading a class question by question and comes to one of these pupils, perhaps only one minute is lost in securing an intelligent answer from him, but even in this short space of time the pupil has been mortified, the attention of the class has been transferred from the subject in hand to his poor scholarship and the teacher must begin over again. This is a positive injury and injustice to the class. It is impossible for a pupil who is struggling along in a class beyond his proper grade to avoid being thus humiliated in nearly every recitation until he finally loses his self respect and then his ambition. He is discouraged now, surely. Besides, he is just as certainly looked upon by his classmates as if he was in the grade below. Progress under these conditions is not possible, and though parents may succeed in postponing the demotion of their child for awhile, it must, and does come, sooner or later. It comes when the pupil is older, more sensitive to disgrace, and when family pride is fully as potent as before. According to the testimony of our teachers, this is the critical point at which many of our pupils actually do become discouraged and leave school.

It has cost about $625 the past year to furnish the schools with text books and other supplies. This has somewhat exceeded the amount estimated by the former board for this year. This may be accounted for in a large measure by the increase in the enrollment in the high school and the large number in the class of '94, which has necessitated quite an additional outlay for this school in the book and supply line. The books used in this school are by far the most expensive of any school in town. We think, however, that when you consider the fact that the total cost has been less than $1.25 per scholar throughout the town for the entire year, that the cost under this system, when compared with the cost when each scholar furnished his own books and supplies will demonstrate to the most sceptical mind the pecuniary advantage of having the books furnished and owned by the town. Who ever heard of the average pupils text books and supplies costing less than $1.25 for the year under the old system?

We have incurred but one bill for transportation the past year, $5, and that on account of the closing of the school in the Chandler division during the winter term. One bill of $7.50 was for transportation prior to March 1, 1892, and not brought in in season for adjustment during the fiscal year closing on that date.

Thirty-three weeks of school have been maintained in each of the outlying divisions except the so-called Chandler and Emerson divisions. In the former the winter term was omitted, owing to the prospective attendance of only three or four scholars, and arrangements were made to accommodate these in the Kelleyville division. It is expected that there will be a demand for a school in this division in the spring. In the Emerson division a term of ten weeks was maintained in the spring. The new building on the Unity road was ready for occupancy at the commencement of the fall term and the scholars in this division have since been accommodated there. The board did not sell the old house in the Emerson division at the time the others were disposed of, as there seemed to be a possibility at that time that it might be wanted for a school in the fall. The building is of little value for school or other purposes, and should there in the future be a need for a school in this locality, we would recommend a new building in a different location. The other unoccupied buildings were disposed of as directed and you are referred to the financial report for information as to proceeds of sale.

We congratulate the citizens of the town generally, and especially those in the immediate neighborhood of the Guild and Reed divisions, upon the possession of two such substantial, commodious and well arranged buildings of modern design, as have been erected in the respective localities during the past year, in pursuance of the vote at the last annual meeting. For a more particular description of these buildings we would refer you to the reports of the respective building committees.

The effect of the concentration of the several former districts into the new house in the Reed division, has been marked and beneficial. The school is now large enough, between twenty and thirty pupils, to insure an interest on both the part of the teacher and pupils, which together with the fine accommodations, must produce results that will convince those who have in the past opposed the idea of this concentration, of the wisdom of the course.

In the Guild division the closing of the Granite State Mills led to a great reduction in the numbers during the winter term. This was an unforeseen condition, and as soon as the mill starts up the school will come back to its former condition as to numbers. A pleasant, commodious and well-equipped building contributes to no small extent in the success which this school is bound to attain. In connection with this school we desire to call attention to the gift of $100 by Mr. W. S. Badger to the building committee, which amount was expended by them on the building. Mr. V. J. Brennan also presented this school with a beautiful flag. In connection with the presentation and raising of this flag the school had some literary exercises of an exceedingly interesting character, and which reflected much credit upon the teacher, school and citizens. For both these gifts the board desire to express the thanks of the district.

Absenteeism and tardiness were especially prevalent in the Northville division during the latter part of the spring term, and the effect was noticeable in the work accomplished. We wish to urge upon parents the necessity for the prompt attendance upon every session of the school by every pupil, if good work is to be accomplished. Sickness or equally good reasons should alone be allowed to absent a pupil from school. If a pupil is absent some principle may be taken up and explained in any given study, which will be so closely connected with the future work in that branch that the failure to understand and apply it may forever after be a stumbling block in that pupil's course.

The building at Northville should be painted outside and in, and some other necessary repairs made, and a sufficient sum to do this should be included in next year's appropriation for repairs.

In the Gould division, while the school is small, it appears to the board that there will be a reasonable demand for a school here for an indefinite period, and some permanent repairs and improvements, such as new windows, clapboarding and painting and new-seating, are necessary, and we would recommend that a sufficient sum be raised and appropriated for this purpose.

The building in the Chandler division has been shingled, and the building in the Kelleyville division painted during the past year. These repairs, with those above suggested, will put the outside schools in very good condition for the coming year.

In the village divisions we have been able to retain the same corps of teachers throughout the year, with the exception of the assistant in the high school, and the east primary. We hoped to retain Miss Day in the high school as assistant; but at the close of the spring term she concluded to go. We fortunately found a very efficient and satisfactory successor in Miss Alice F. Morrill.

Three terms of twelve weeks each have been maintained in the high school, grammar and intermediate grades.

The numbers in the high school the past year have been larger than for some time. The work in this school has been of an exceedingly practical nature, and such as must commend itself to the parents and friends of the pupils.

The grammar and intermediate schools have moved along smoothly, and accomplished as much as could reasonably be expected with the insufficient accommodations and multiplicity of classes. These evils will exist in these schools until some change shall be made in the buildings that will enable the grading to be so arranged as to give a two years' course in each school. In connection with the grammar grade we desire to call your attention to the gift of $50 to this school by Mrs. A. C. Bradley, with which to purchase two cabinets for geographical and mineralogical specimens. These cabinets have been well filled under the supervision of the teacher, Mr. Atwell, who has taken an interest in the matter and made the specimens a means of much practical and interesting instruction to the pupils in his room. The thanks of the pupils, parents and board are due Mrs. Bradley for her generous gift.

Thirty-one weeks of school have been maintained in each of the village primaries the past year. Had the board been certain that the funds would have permitted, they would have increased the number of weeks to thirty-three; and we would recommend that suitable provision be made for doing this the coming year. Our primary teachers have been deeply interested and zealous in their work, and the results have been correspondingly good. In this connection we wish again to remind the parents and citizens of the need of a better system of grading in these primary schools. If a central location could be obtained and a new building erected with three rooms, making three grades of one year each, we believe that much more satisfactory results would be secured.

At the beginning of the fall term some elementary instruction in vocal music was started in the primary grades with a view to preparation for special attention and instruction in this branch the coming year. The board would recommend that lessons in vocal music be given the coming year by a special teacher in the grammar, intermediate and primary grades. We would also recommend that a start be made in a small way in drawing, by having instruction given in at least the primary grades. We think this can be done the first year at very little expense. We doubt if you can find another town of the size of ours where drawing and music are not taken up in the public schools. Can we afford to be backward in this matter? We would recommend that $100 be raised and appropriated for instruction in music and drawing the coming year.

We desire your candid and careful consideration of the condition of the central and north and south primary buildings in the village division. It seems to us that we have arrived at a point where some extensive repairs must be made on the buildings above named, or erect some new ones on the old or other sites.

The heating and sanitary arrangements at the central building are simply outrageous. If any voter doubts this statement let him go to the building and examine into its accommodations in these lines for himself. The condition of the outbuildings is demoralizing, and smoke and creosote are extremely plenty inside the school rooms. The recitation room connected with the high school is insufficient in size and ventilation, and being situated directly over the vestibule below, the classes are subjected to a great deal of inconvenience by noise. Just imagine, if you please, twenty pupils and a teacher crowded into a room 11 by 15 feet, and less than eight feet high, with a box stove for heating, and a trap door in the ceiling, and a window for ventilation, and you have the exact situation and condition of things in the recitation room connected with the Newport high school. What do you suppose is the condition of the air in such a room after a three-quarters of an hour recitation? If you have opened the windows for the necessary air, what is liable to be the effect upon the health of the teacher and pupils?

There are now three classes in the high school, numbering in all 48 pupils. There is no class to graduate at the close of this year and there is a class of 13 in the grammar school to come up next fall, making, if none drop out, 61, besides what are likely to come in from the outside districts. The seating capacity of the room is now 50, and the two teachers have scarcely the necessary time to properly attend to the present classes, and when four classes more are added it would seem that quite a problem confronted the board to know how to properly provide for them with the present facilities. The condition of things here, together with the crowded and unsatisfactory and unhealthy condition of things in the grammar and intermediate divisions, and the general condition of the building, are such as would seem to demand that some action be taken without further delay, if the comfort, health, moral and intellectual training of our children are to be considered. The building leaks badly and the plastering in the high school room is in very poor condition. The sanitary, heating, lighting and ventilating arrangements of this building are subjects to which former boards have called your attention. Can it be that the citizens of Newport, who are apparently so proud of their town, and its other public buildings, and the numerous attractions and advantages which they are holding forth to manufacturing and business enterprises, are satisfied with their school building? If not, why not make a move at this time to put them in shape so that they may not only assist in the better education of your own pupils but offer inducements for others to come here to educate their children?

ROLL OF PERFECT ATTENDANCE.

High—Clarence D. Mooney. Grammar—John E. Ring. Intermediate—Florence Blaisdell, Ida Davis. North Primary—Ethel E. Bascom. West Primary—Lucy Brow, Guy Spooner, Harry Spooner, Bertie Spooner. Guild—Emma Rawson. Kelleyville—Lena E. Smith. The above is for the whole school year.

STATISTICS.

The number of children in the town between five and fifteen years of age, as reported by the selectmen, is 291 boys and 265 girls. Owing to the incompleteness of returns, the board are unable to give with any degree of accuracy the number between the ages of five and fifteen not attending any school during the year. Our estimate is 25; 15 boys, 10 girls. In our opinion very few of the number have been detained from school by reason of being compelled to work. The attention of the board has not been called to any between the ages of 14 and 21 who can neither read or write. The school board have made 118 visits, not including for the delivery of books and supplies; parents and citizens, 1,006. Of the teachers employed during the spring term 2 were males and 14 females; fall term, 2 males, 13 females; winter term, 3 males, 11 females. You are referred to the tables, hereto appended, for further statistics.

Respectfully submitted,

OREN C. KIBBEY,	} School Board of Newport.

Report of Building Committees.

REED DIVISION SCHOOL HOUSE.

Pursuant to a vote passed at the last annual meeting, your board have located and erected a building on the "Cutts Corner," so called, at the junction of the roads near the residence of Frank A. Reed. The size of the building is 25 x 38 feet. The spot selected contains about three-fourths of an acre. There is a fine young grove on the rear of the lot, which if properly cared for will, in time, make a very desirable and attractive play ground. Your committee paid $20 for this lot, and took a warranty deed running to the district. There is a good cellar under the whole building, from which access is had to the closets. This cellar is walled on three sides, the woodwork running down on the east side, and is amply large for storage of fuel, and a heating apparatus if desired. Some of the residents of this division contributed very generously toward the excavating, cellar wall and grading, so that the actual cost to the district of preparing the foundations for the brick work was little, if any, more than it would have been for an ordinary trench wall foundation. The main room is 24 x 29 feet inside, and ten feet posted in the clear, with a seating capacity for 40 scholars, without over crowding. It is now furnished with 28 seats of modern pattern, from the Vermont School Seat Co., and heated with a jacketed stove. The school room is well lighted, heated and ventilated, and we believe that none pleasanter exists in town. The building should have another coat of paint on the outside the coming spring, and the cellar wall should be pointed in order to keep the surface water out, and some outside blinds would add very materially to the looks and convenience of the building, and we would recommend that the sum of $75 be raised and appropriated and expended for these purposes. The outlay of the committee for the lot, building and new furnishings throughout, ready for occupancy, is as follows:

Cost of lot and recording deed,	$ 20 60
Paid for excavating and wall,	29 75
Paid A. McNabb, contract price and extras,	712 65
	<hr/>	$763 00
Appropriation at annual meeting,	$600 00
Net amount received from sale of old houses,	30 85
	<hr/>	$630 85
 Amt. expended in excess of appropriation,		 $132 15

The cost of furnishing the house, $111.68, is charged into the miscellaneous account.

The amount expended in excess of the appropriation has been drawn from money in the treasury not otherwise used.

Your committee disliked to exceed the appropriation, but think it will be evident to all that the appropriation was not sufficient for building and furnishing a house suitable for the needs of the division, and that it was a much wiser and more economical course to build a good substantial house sufficient for all probable needs for years to come in this part of the district. In short, we have not been extravagant, but thorough.

Respectfully,

O. C. KIBBEY,

The above estimate for repairs does not include anything for the central building and the village primaries, upon which it will be necessary to expend quite a sum in the way of shingling, plastering, and general repairs, in order to preserve the buildings and make them as comfortable as may be. In view of the agitation of a new building or buildings, it seems proper to leave this matter for the consideration of the annual district meeting.

Respectfully submitted,

P. A. JOHNSON, Treasurer.

Newport, N. H., March 7, 1893.

Auditors' Report.

The undersigned, auditors of Newport School District, respectfully submit that we have this 4th day of March, 1893, carefully examined the accounts of the Treasurer of said district for the year ending March 1st, 1893, and find the same correctly cast and properly vouched.
